Paddle your own canoe.
By Mrs. SARAH T. BROWN.

Voyager upon life's sea,
To yourself be true,
And where'er your lot may be,
Paddle your own canoe,
Never, through the winds may rave,
Falter nor look back,
But upon the darkest wave
Leave a silvery track.

Nobly dare the wildest storm,
Stem the hardest gale,
Brave of heart and strong of arm
You will never fail;
When the world is cold and dark,
Keep an aim in view,
And towards the beacon-mark
Paddle your own canoe.

Every wave that bears you on
To the silent shore,
From its sunny source has gone,
To return no more,
Then let not an hour's delay
Cost you of your due;
But, while it is called today,
Paddle your own canoe.

If your birth denied you wealth,
Lusty state and power,
Honest fame and hardy health
Are a bitter bower;
But if these will not suffice,
Golden gain pursue,
And to gain the glittering prize,
Paddle your own canoe.

Would you wrest the wreath of fame
From the hand of fate;

Would you write a deathless name
With the good and great?

Would you bless your fellow men?

Heart and soul untrue
With the holy task, and then
Paddle your own canoe.

Would you crush the tyrant wrong,
In the world's free fight?

With a spirit brave and strong,
Battle for the right;

And to break the chains that bind
The many to the few—

To unfrown the shabby mind,
Paddle your own canoe.

Nothing great is lightly won,
Nothing won is lost—

Every good deed, nobly done,
Will repay the cost.

Leave to heaven, in humble trust,

All you will to do;

But, if you succeed, you must
Paddle your own canoe.
